Choose the appropriate item from the list:

Call for sessions

A call for sessions for the conference. Also creates a semi-private group in which the session can be proposed, discussed and voted on.

Event

An event is a story which can be given a start and end date, thus appearing in the events calendar.

Image

An image (with thumbnail). This is ideal for publishing photographs or screenshots.

Page

If you want to add a static page, like a contact page or an about page, use a page.

Session

A proposal for a session at the conference.

Newsletter issue

Create a newsletter issue to be sent to subscribed e-mail addresses.

Venue

Details of the conference venue.

XP Day 7 is a two day international conference for anyone who wants to create software better. XP Day focuses on practical knowledge, real-world experience and active participation of all attendees.

We welcome submissions from anyone involved in creating software, whatever your role. That means you.

Why Organize a Session?

Organizing a session is one of the best ways to learn from the conference. It provides an opportunity to share your experiences and to get feedback on your ideas. It's your opportunity to shape XPDay 7.

We offer one free registration to the conference for each accepted session.

Format

We believe that the best way to learn is through experience, so we encourage sessions that involve interaction and audience participation. We are also looking for real life experiences (both good and bad) of applying Agile techniques. Successful sessions from previous years have included experience reports, tutorials, workshops, simulations and games. Sessions will

* We are open to submissions from experienced presenters as well as novices
* We do not accept sponsored or purely commercial sessions or posters
* We prefer sessions organized by more than one presenter; posters can be presented by one person
* Presenters may submit more than one session and/or poster

XP Day 7 is organized by the eXtreme Tuesday Club, a non-profit organization that publicizes and shares knowledge about Agile software development practices.
